WHAT IS THE HEALTH INSURANCE MARKETPLACE?

The Marketplace is a “one-stop online shopping site” where individuals can purchase private or public health insurance coverage. A call center and paper application will be offered as well. Consumers can do online comparison-shopping and look at a variety of plans with different benefits and costs. There will be two main types of insurance marketplaces: individuals or families buying their own coverage and employees of businesses with 100 or fewer workers (50 or fewer in some states). The insurance plan for small businesses and their employees is referred to as a “Small Business Health Option Plan,” or SHOP. Each Insurance Marketplace will vary from state to state.

HOW CAN THE GPTCHB NAVIGATOR PROGRAM HELP YOU?

The Navigator Program consists of two navigators in S.D. and two navigators in N.D. who provide individuals with additional assistance in shopping for and enrolling in plans under the Affordable Care Act’s (ACA) Health Insurance Marketplace. Qualified Health Plan (QHP) enrollment assistance will be available to Native Americans residing on or near the reservations in South and North Dakota, as well as those Natives living within the Trenton Indian Service Area range in North Dakota.

In addition, GPTCHB will provide Health Insurance Marketplace enrollment assistance within the two states to Natives living in major urban areas serviced by Urban Indian Health Centers.

Navigators will be visiting a community near you. Check the Navigator Program website for a full listing of events: Navigator.GPTCHB.org.

PROGRAM

BENEFITS FOR AMERICAN INDIANS AND ALASKA NATIVES

Members of federally-recognized tribes earning less than $34,470 per year for an individual and $70,650 per year for a family of four will not pay out-of-pocket costs, like co-pays, for services covered by their Marketplace health insurance plan.

Members of federally-recognized tribes can change their enrollment status through the Marketplace once a month if they so choose.

All American Indians and Alaska Natives eligible for Indian Health Service care are exempt from the federal requirement to maintain minimum insurance coverage.

Insurance will pay for services instead of Contract Health Services (CHS) via IHS paying. Therefore, there will be more available CHS funds to help tribal members with care.
